

TEST 2

I/ Reading comprehension: (6 marks)

A Day out By Maire Mc Guigan

- 1/ It was a lovely spring morning when Maire and her friend Lyn set out to climb a mountain. They decided to climb Ben Nevis, as it is the highest mountain in Scotland.
- 2/ Maire and Lyn got into their smart sports car and drove up to Fort William where they set off down Glen Nevis. They were soon on their way up the Ben. The higher they climbed, the colder it became. The sun disappeared into the mist and snow began to fall.
- 3/ Maire was scared and wanted to go home. The snow covered the track leaving the girls lost, cold and frightened.
- 4/ They thought they were going to freeze to death on the mountain side. Luckily, Maire had her mobile phone with her and managed to call for help.
- 5/ The mountain rescue team reached them just in time to save them from freezing to death. The rescue team took them to a posh hotel where they had a lovely dinner and then danced all night.
- 6/ They got home the next day and told everyone what a smashing time they had in Fort William.

III/ Writing: (6 marks)

- Here you are supposed to write a letter of advice and persuasion. You persuade your friend's parents to let Anis join a club. You should give some arguments:
  - to practise sports to keep fit
  - you become more sociable and self-confident
  - you can make new friends through sports.
- You can also convince them by speaking about yourself: you practise sport and you are top of your class.
- Try to assure them that Anis can reconcile his education with sport very well and that his results will not suffer.
- Here are some structures you can use:
  - No one can deny the importance of practising sport.
  - I understand your worries about your son, but be sure...
  - I'm certain he can reconcile...
  - He is old enough to assume his responsibility
  - You shouldn't be pushy...
  - I beg you to have faith in your son...
  - Give him a chance and I'm sure...
  - Don't worry about Anis, he is a good pupil.
  - You shouldn't deprive your son of his right to.
